Any sorting or segregation requested shall be subject to an additional charge.

STORED PERIOD – Sec. 2 All goods are stored on a month to month basis unless otherwise provided in writing. A storage month shall extend from a date in one calendar month to, but not including, the same date of the next and all succeeding calendar months, but if there be no corresponding date in the next succeeding calendar month, it shall extend to, and include, the 1st day of that month.

INSURANCE, STORAGE RATES, EXPIRATION AND TRANSFERS – Sec. 3(a) All charges for storage are on a ~~month to month~~ ^{30 DAY} basis unless otherwise provided. Charges for any particular lot shall begin at the receipt of the first unit of that particular lot in store and shall continue to include the storage month during which the last unit of the particular lot is delivered. Charges will be made on the basis of the maximum number of unit in any particular lot in store during a storage month. All charges for storage are due on the first day of a storage month, and all other charges are due when incurred.

(b) Instructions to transfer goods on the books of the warehouseman shall be in writing, and are not effective until received by him, and all charges up to the time transfer is made are chargeable to the bailor of record. If a transfer involves rehandling the goods, it will be subject to a charge to the transferor.

(c) When goods in storage are transferred from one party to another, through issuance of a new warehouse receipt, a new storage date is established on the date of transfer.

(d) The warehouseman reserves the right to remove, at its own expense of transfer, and without increasing its liability by reason thereof, any goods in storage from any part of the building in which they may be stored to any other part of the same building or to any other building of the warehouseman, provided, however, that the removal of goods from one building to another building shall be made only upon notice sent by registered mail to the bailor of record, and when a negotiable warehouse receipt has been issued, to the last known owner thereof, at his last known place of business abode.

(b) When a negotiable receipt has been issued, no goods covered by that receipt shall be delivered or transferred on the books of the warehouse unless the receipt properly endorsed, is surrendered for cancellation or for notation of partial delivery thereon. If a negotiable receipt is lost, stolen or destroyed, delivery of the goods or issuance of a substitute document may be made only upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction pursuant to the Uniform Commercial Code. The bailee may, however without court order, deliver goods to a person claiming under a missing negotiable document if the claimant posts security with the warehouseman in an amount at least double the value of the goods at the time of posting to indemnify any person injured by the delivery who files a notice claim within one year after delivery.

(c) When goods are ordered out, a reasonable time shall be given to the warehouseman to carry out instructions, and if such reasonable time extends beyond the expiring storage dates, the goods will be subject to charges for another storage month. If, however the warehouseman is unable, after the expiration of such reasonable time to effect delivery before expiring storage dates due to the occurrence of any of the events set forth in Section 10 hereof, or in the event the warehouseman has given notice pursuant to Section 7-206 of the Uniform Commercial Code, the goods remaining in the warehouse shall be subject to storage charges only for that part of the next succeeding storage month during which the goods remain in store.
